

Rob Whyte's Writing Tools

You will want to know the meanings of these writing tools.

Conjunction	and, but I like chicken and pizza but I don't like spicy rice cake.
Contraction:	can't, won't I can't call you today.
Adverb:	slowly, quickly The cat looked at the dog and ran quickly to his house.
Adjective	big, brown, handsome Your handsome teacher is reading this sentence.
Gerund:	ing She is walking to the store.
Prepositional Phrase:	preposition + noun or pronoun I went to school by bus. She went to school with him. The book is on the floor. The teacher talked about them. I stayed at home on the weekend.
Phrasal Verb:	verb + preposition He walked across the street. The security guard told us to keep out . The kindergarten teacher said, " Stand up ."
Plural subject:	not one thing, but two or more things My glasses were on the bed.
Infinitive:	to + verb I like to read books.

Rob Whyte's English Writing Class

Write a sentence that has ...

1. the conjunctions but and and.

2. the words meet and meat.

3. a contraction, an adverb and two adjectives

4. all words that begin with the same letter.

5. a gerund, a prepositional phrase, and an adjective.

6. a pronoun, a conjunction and a color.

7. a question mark, a plural subject and a prepositional phrase.

8. plural subject

9. a phrasal verb

10. three adjectives and an infinitive
